“ Amy, my heart is breaking to hear about your passing. I know that you are in heaven and I would never ever wish you to leave that beautiful place but we are human and we miss those we love. I am reminded of beautiful smile, your realness and your big heart. I will never listen to Rascal Flats and not think of you. You posts of your babies Oh how they will miss you too. Dear one I am so thankful to have known you. May your story live on and may your mission for people to early self check be shouted from the roof tops. You have left an indelible mark on my heart beautiful one. Until we meet again. Jeremiah 29:11 "For I know the plans I have for you, says the Lord. They are plans for good and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope." Your future was heaven and leaving a legacy for others. Inspiring others to FIGHT and FIGHT well you did. Love you Amy! I will miss our Facebook and Instagram convos. <3

Tammy and family.

Words seem so inadequate to tell you how sorry I am for your loss. Amy was such a trooper. From the days with Steph at CBES and then the band, I grew to love Amy so. She was a true fighter. She has won the war and is home with her Savior and in no pain at all. You are all in prayers that the Lord will wrap His loving arms around you and carry you through this difficult journey. Such beautiful memories! Wish I could be there to tell you this in person.

Thank you Sharon for everything you have done to help Amy and Stephanie. I'm sorry I'm just now answering this, but I didnt know these comments were here. Amy will be greatly missed and everyday there is something that reminds me of her. I've reen lost without her. I still have my crying spells sometimes. I know she is better off in heaven and I hope to see her again some day and hug and kiss her and tell her how much I love her.

Thank you Ellen!! She is greatly missed and will always be. I wish I could have her back, but that would be selfish of me to want that, because she is not in pain, or worried about anything. I picture her in heaven, walking around heaven with her dog, Sadie, that passed away in 2017. She loved that dog as much as a mother would love a child. It broke her heart completely when she had to make the decision to put her to sleep due to liver failure.

“First of all, to Amy's family, I know there are no words that can take the pain away, but please know that you will be in my constant thoughts and prayers from this moment on. Because the grief doesn't end after the funeral is over. Praying for peace, comfort, understanding, and love.

Amy, I can't even wrap my head around having to write this. It just doesn't seem real, and I, along with everyone else, wishes it wasn't real. But I know that you're no longer in pain, and your rejoicing in heaven with Jesus and the angels. I can't even put into words how much you meant to me. I can't imagine not being able to wake up at 1 a.m. and message, or call you. Our conversations were some of the best parts of my life. Thank you for always being there, for showing me love, and for allowing me to have the honor of being your friend. I will miss you more than words could ever express. I'll be making a donation to Big Fluffy Dog Rescue tonight in your honor, because I know how much your fur babies meant to you. I love you sweet girl. Until we meet again.

Thank you Alicia for your beautiful words. I know she had some really good friends in Nashville and that helped ease my mind when I wasn't with her. Yes, I feel like she is in heaven also, rejoicing with the Angel's and Jesus. I feel she is still watching over Stephanie. We have had a few "incidents" to prove that. She was her second mother and still is. When I am outside and I look up to the sky, wondering what she is doing, a lot of times, I'll see a very bright twinkling star, like she is watching over all of us.

Thank you!! Yes, everytime I hear a RF song, it makes me think of her. The song "Changed" was played at her funeral and on the way to the graveyard, we blasted rascal flatts all the way. She knows how crazy we can get sometimes, lol.

“ My love of a certain blonde lead singer lead me to meet Amy 9 years ago. Our shared stories and continues live of country music made us friends. Amy you were always someone I could share my crazy adventures with. This darn cancer thing got you and you stomped it out. I looked up to you for your strength and determination. I think I thought that if cancer couldn't beat you nothing could! I can't believe you are gone. I will miss your smiling face and your positive attitude. I know when I see our guy again, you will be there standing with me, healthy and full of excitement without sickness and pain! I love you!!

“ I'm still having a hard time believing this is real. But I love you so much. I'll never forget you or the many memories we made. We got to be in each other's lives for 9 short years but it felt like a lifetime. You are one of my very best friends. Our love for a certain lead singer, our furbabies, and all the many shenanigans will never be gone. As badly as I miss you, I know you are completely surrounded with the health, love and peace you have wanted for so long. I love you and thank you for being my friend.
