“ I'm sorry to learn of Amy's passing.

I met and talked with her often when she was the Strings teacher at Buist Academy in Charleston, SC. (I was the nurse there for 16 years.)

She was always so positive and hopeful even with her diagnosis. She was and is an example for us all.

Rest well my friend.

“ Family and Friends of Amy,

I had the privilege of working with Amy when she was employed with the Virginia Department for the Blind and Vision Impaired, and I enjoyed and have fond memories of working with her. She was such a kind and compassionate person, who was a blessing to work with. You will be in my thoughts and prayers for God's comfort, peace, and strength in days/months ahead. God Bless, Renee Roberts

“ Amy was my colleague and my friend in Charleston. She was such a sweet soul. It was important to Amy that she make each of her students feel special. I loved hearing her voice and the kindness in every word. She had a good sense of humor that always picked me up no matter how much she was dealing with. I am blessed to have known her if for only a short time. I will miss her and will remember her always.

“ I believe this was a former classmate of mine. If so, we were in band together, I played the clarinet and she played the flute and was a majorette. Amy was the sweetest person. Her family is in my prayers.
