“ Heaven Definitely gained an Angel with Bryon. One of the kindest people I have ever met. A smile that would warm your heart from the first time you ever met him. A true friend! Tom decided he wanted out the mines and went to another job. A few days later he realized he really loved his old job more than he thought, he called Bryon up, and Bryon welcomed him right back. He told Tom he knew he would be back so he held his job for a few days. Always there through the good times and the bad. Our love and prayers go out to you Cheryl and your wonderful sons.

“ I only got to meet Bryon 7 days ago, on the evening before Veteran's Day. His wife, Cheryl, now teaches at Sanville Elementary School, and I'm now honored and privileged to call her my friend and co-worker. She was in charge of a program recognizing and honoring all veterans that evening, 7 days ago. Bryon attended the event and I introduced myself to him before the service. Throughout the ceremony, which included the children singing patriotic songs, speaking famous American quotes & phrases, and an outstanding video tribute to our veterans, I could tell Bryon was extremely touched and proud of his country. Just from that brief 1 to 2 hours of being in his presence, never knowing him before that moment, I could tell he was an honorable man that truly believed in and loved his country with all his heart & soul!

Being that I'm not from a military family, I remember thinking, "Wow, these guys here and millions of others are why I've been able to live, learn, worship, travel, and work FREELY in my home country!" I've had those thoughts before, but I think we sometimes get too busy in our lives and take special moments like that and military holidays for granted. James 4:14 tells us "...yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes."

Bryon was there that evening to help me and others truly realize how God has blessed us through the sacrifices of Him and those like Bryon, even though we may know them for only a brief time. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all!
