“ My cousin Donnie was very close in age to me (13 months younger), so we were often together as children at Grandma's and Grandpa's on the mountain. I remember him as kind, quiet, a little bashful, not a mean bone in his body, and a good friend. I think he liked my Dad a lot because I remember him always being near my Dad out on the side porch at Grandma's. I am very saddened that I almost never saw him as we grew up, but since hearing of his illness a year or so ago he has been in my prayers. I pray often for all of my cousins, my first friends, always my family no matter how far away we stray. I was born on my Aunt Ethel's birthday. She always told me that made me special to her. Donnie was born on my brother Kermit's birthday. Now they are together again.
