“ From as young as I can remember, my Grandma taught me not to wash my face in anything but lukewarm water (and some other secret tricks) so I wouldn't get wrinkles and saved all of her Avon perfume bottles for me for years which became the homes of my first apothecary formulas. My favorite potions were created by the sea where she always sent me off on vacation with a fresh, full bag of glass goodies with beautiful caps! Ahh the Avon of the 70's!

She and my other grandmother dared my mom and dad to take me on their motorcycle one more time and see what happened...when I was only a few months old. I guess I have her to thank for being unwrecked, wrinkle free, a library full of potions - and for loving me! May she finally find eternal peace. <3
