“ I can remember when my son's moved to North Carolina, I'd go and visit him and we would talk for hours about my son's then he would say I love my son to , but sometimes for them to grow up they gotta get cut back down to make them stronger. I always enjoyed our visits, and left with a new lesson learned, and loved being with him and little p he use to call Preston. He will be missed greatly. R. I. P. My bffL. Love you.
