Bo was born in Jewell Ridge, VA on July 21, 1934 to the late Roscoe Paul and Mary Alice Atwell Wise. Bo was very proud of his military service during the post WWII recovery period. He was stationed with the 41st Infantry Battalion in Uhm, Germany for two years. After receiving an honorable discharge from the Army, Bo moved to Akron and began a long career with The Goodyear Tire and Rubber that lasted 35 years. He worked in the Production Division and was commended for developing innovations that improved efficiency on the production lines. Bo also served numerous terms as a union representative for the United Rubber Workers, Local #2.

Bo was the starting pitcher for his high school team, The Richlands Blue Tornados; and continued his love of the game throughout his life. He played baseball and softball and was on many winning teams in the Goodyear Intramural Leagues. He loved seeing “The Big Red Machine” in the 1976 World Series. He was also a dedicated OSU football fan and had fond memories of attending several Rose Bowl games.

Bo and Mary raised Kerry Blue terriers for show and they traveled extensively on vacations. He was especially close to Mary’s sister, Margaret “Marg”; her brother, Ira "Bud", and their families. In his later years, Bo loved Celtic music, walks with his sweetheart, Kathleen; and their dog Dudley, trips to Niagara Falls and Gettysburg, and visiting his hometown of Jewell Ridge. Bo was a member of the Oak Hill Presbyterian Church, a community that gave him joy and comfort.

In addition to his parents, Bo was preceded in death by his wife of 44 years, Mary Lytle Wise; and his siblings, Gaynelle and Winfred.
