“I may have suffered thru out this world, but I will not suffer any more. All I have done will open the door to the Kingdom I have been longing for. Don’t cry for me for I am not in pain. His righteous glory is why I came. I woke up in heaven calling his name. He came to me with open arms saying welcome home. Even though I may be gone always know you’re never alone. For I will be with you every step and I’ll be protecting you while you rest.” ~ Heath Farmer

*Dollie,
I am very sorry to hear of your loss. Ira was a very likable, genuine person who never seemed to change. I had the good fortune of running into him a couple times for a brief chat at our local Walmart Store when he was passing through Giles County on hunting trips.*

I regret that I was unable to attend the last class reunion to meet again with you, Ira and all our classmates.
