“ I grew up with Jerry and we were classmates together at RHS (Class of '89). We were both members of the basketball team during our middle school years. Jerry was the perfect example of the best kind of teammate. Solid, dependable, and willing to go the extra mile. He didn't say much -- but when he did speak, you knew it was worth hearing. And when he shared his sense of humor, everybody within hearing distance laughed. My respect for him will always live on and my prayers will remain with his family.
