“ George is in a long term care facility due to mental illness. I have many artifacts or possesions that were Samuel Anderson Mahone, my father in law. There were several things in the obituary that were not accurate. I have in my home now, several of Sam Mahone's crafts. He was a cabinet maker and known as a carpenter. He is said to have had a terrible temper when things went wrong on the job. I met him after he was very old and had lost both legs. He saw and delighted in his grandson Michael who talked very early and his grandfather could always hear him even when he could not hear the rest of us.
