“ There are no words to express how deeply saddened I am about your loss. I know all too well how suddenly life changed for you on Wednesday and recognize that it will never be the same again. I also know that with the good Lords help and comfort you can and will find peace. For this is not the end just a beautiful new begining. Life after all is just a temporary journey we take on our way home. I know she will be missed--every single day. But, I also know that she has come to the end of her journey and is now home and waiting for each of you. May you know how much I love you all and that you will be in my thoughts and prayers in the days to come.
