“ One of the nicest people I have ever known. Bobby treated everyone with respect, even when you were not "an important" person. I say this having met him when I was in my early 20's. I would visit the Ford dealership for my employer, and occasionally for my dad to pick up a heavy truck part. I was usually really dirty and certainly did not look like I was of much value. That did not matter. Bobby would always smile, always speak, shake your hand (even dirty), and treat you like you were as important as someone spending a million dollars. Later in life, I became a lawyer and practice here in Southwest Virginia. It was always a great, great pleasure to do business with Bobby...to see him and talk with him. You will be sorely missed, my old friend. Godspeed...and may god bless your sweet family in this difficult time. --Brad Ratliff
