“ Joey was a sweet person and a great friend. We met in pre-k and we became instant friends. We had an assignment to make a thanksgiving turkey for our mom's to put on the fridge, I still have mine! Joey's fell apart...maybe it would have stayed together but he ate the glue. He always knew how to make you laugh. I will miss him. My thoughts and prayers are with his family. Love Jamie

“ Jason, We are so sorry for your loss. We remember so well the times that Joey came out and played ball with the Outlaws during practice. All of the guys had such a good time around him. They thought the world of all of both of you. May you and your family find comfort in God's embrace and know that Joey is in a much better place and that you will see him again someday. All our love, thoughts and prayers are with you during this most difficult time.

“ Everyone who knew Joey can attest that the world has lost a good man. Words can not describe the grief the family feels right now. I wish I were there to give you all hugs and to just let you know that I love you, I'm praying for you, and my heart is broken for you all. Jason told me that Joey knows our feelings for him, and he is right. What I need to let the family know is that I love you guys more than you will ever know. It pains me to not be able to be there for you guys. You were like a second family to me growing up, and Jason and Joe were the closest I ever came to having brothers. I remember making sure that I would be at the house for Joe's birthday parties. Jason and I would go out with Joe and his friends and play for hours. The times I spent around you guys were some of the best of my life. I will always have that.

I know that Joe was really into poetry, and that he was pretty darn good at it. I am not, but I found this and thought it was fitting. Hopefully, this can serve as my hug to you during this tough time. I love you guys.

*Four Candles for You
by Unknown*

*The first candle represents our grief.
The pain of losing you is intense.
It reminds us of the depth of our love for you.*

*This second candle represents our courage.
To confront our sorrow,
To comfort each other,
To change our lives.*

*This third candle we light in your memory.
For the times we laughed,
The times we cried,
The times we were angry with each other,
The silly things you did,*

The caring and joy you gave us.

This fourth candle we light for our love.

We light this candle that your light will always shine.

As we enter this holiday season and share this night of remembrance with our family and friends.

We cherish the special place in our hearts

that will always be reserved for you.

We thank you for the gift

your living brought to each of us.

We love you.

We remember you.

“ I have lost my inspiration, my kindred spirit. We shared so many creative ideas. I am going to miss so much you telling me about a new poem you had written or us swapping ideas for a great screen play. I only hope that God will grant me time to make you proud Joe, and for our book to be published. May you find peace in Granny's gentle embrace and someday I will once again see the twinkle in your eyes and the smile upon your face. I am going to miss you more than words can ever convey. I love you.

“ Joe-Joe,

Man it still doesn't seem real and I'm not as skilled with my words as you were, and I never will be. However rest assured that I spend the rest of my time on this Earth glorifying your name. You are my best friend and brother, the world will never again have such a special person.

I love you more than life Joe and miss your more than I thought humanly possible. Kiss Granny for me, I love you!
