“ Mom,

This is my last "see you later". You are so busy up there in heaven you may never think of us here. You didn't leave us, you went on ahead - and you are just waiting for us. Things are just as they should be - you go first and then we follow and because 'all things work together for good'. Because you are a Christian and brought us up to look to Jesus, we will see you soon. I can only imagine all the wonderful things you are seeing and doing - have a lot of fun. I am so thankful that you are not sick anymore - ten years is a very long time to suffer. I know you stayed here just for us and we thought we needed you more than you needed to be with Jesus. Thank you for forgiving me and loving me unconditionally. Thank you for being the most gentle and humble person I have ever met. Thank you for being a model for me to follow. Thank you for being proud of me for just being me. Thank you for showing me Jesus - the greatest gift you could have given me. I love you very much and I will see you in heaven. I want to see you first thing - right after Jesus. If it wasn't for Him I wouldn't get to see you at all. Mom He really does bear my burdens and carry my sorrows, just like He said He would. Mom, I'll see you later and I love you. Susan “ Family, I hope that you remember me. I was very saddened to read about your mom's death. I know that you are very sad at this time. I wish you comfort for each other at this very heart-breaking time. I always thought highly of your mom and so did Jeff. She was a very good hearted person. She will be greatly missed.
