

Lyle Wallace

June 6, 2005

Mrs. Lyle Wallace Cox of Richlands, Virginia passed away Monday, June 6, 2005 at her home following a brief illness. She was born in Russell County, Virginia and was the daughter of the late Grat and Rebecca Anne Artrip Wallace both Russell County, Virginia natives. She was educated in Russell County and Jewell Ridge in Elementary school and was a graduate of Richlands High School Class of 1935, which was outstanding for the fact that three sets of sisters graduated that year. She had lived in the Richlands area most of her life. She had been a member of the First United Methodist Church in Richlands, Virginia for the past 56 years. While a member, she served 21 years in the capacity of arts and crafts teacher for Vacation Bible School for all grades from primary to senior high. In addition to her parents she was preceded in death by her husband: Mr. Clyde W. Cox; 5 Sisters: Opal Shaw, Gladys Page, Edith Wallace, Diane Moore, Lois Fuller and One Brother: Harless Wallace. She was the last surviving member of her immediate family. Survivors are: Son: Ronald W. Harmon and wife, Joan C. of Winchester, Virginia 2 Step-Sons: James Lee Cox of Vicksburg, Mississippi David Harrison Cox of Tazewell, Virginia Several step-grandchildren, nieces and nephews also survive. Funeral services for Mrs. Lyle Wallace Cox will be conducted Thursday, June 9, 2005 at 11:00 a.m. at the Hurst-Scott Funeral Chapel with the Rev. David Brannock officiating. Interment will follow in the Clinch Valley Memorial Cemetery in Richlands, Virginia. Pallbearers will be: The Men of the First United Methodist Church. Honorary Pallbearers will be: Dr. J.H. McVey,

Dr. Stephen Blaydes, Dr. J.H. Belcher and the Staff of Hurst-Scott Funeral Home. “ Ronnie,

I am so sad to hear this. I had planned a visit June 24th. Charlotte just told me. I have been visiting her about every 3 - 4 month for awhile. She was my last Aunt on my fathers side. I want to tell you some of the things I liked about her. She had the use of such picturesque speech' like she would say 'you have raisins in your pockets', when you had the boldness to do something unexpected. I would laugh with her, her eyes would twinkle while she would tell you stories of how life was when she grew up or about "Jay-Bird" which is what she called my father affectionately. She would tell me stories of how she took care of me when I was small. She would tell me about her garden and how she had vegetables here and there; I think her garden was much bigger when she lived above the News Press. She was proud to walk to and from her garden because "garden veggies were better than store bought ones any day". On my last visit I took her a beautiful orchid to wear to church on Mothers Day. My Mom went to heaven over a year ago so I couldn't get her one. I was in Virginia Mothers Day weekend 5-8-05 and I wanted Aunt Lyle to have the best corsage to wear to church. Aunt Lyle also shared her art with me - where I think I got my talent and she would say, and sometimes she shared her poems but most of all she shared her heart with me and made me feel like I was her only neice. I don't know how long she has been sick, she wouldn't tell me and I wouldn't ask. She shared what she wanted to and I'd never pry - she didn't like that - so she told me many many years ago. I am so sad to see her go but am glad she was a Christian and I will see her later. I will miss her much. Ronnie you can write me if you want I would like to hear from you.

“ Ronnie,

I new your mother and enjoyed her so much. We would go to the doctors, the store, and the garden. I learned so much from her and it was a pleasure taking her around town. She always wanted to pay for the gas or buy me a sandwich. I told her just being with her was payment enough.

Her phone calls and many notes and cards (Lyle Originals) helped me to get throught the death of my mother a year ago on the 6th of June.

She was so proud of you and talked of you with such love and would show me your Roses all th time.

The Richlands Community has lost a wonderful lady upon the passing of your mother. She was a historian for the community and the church she loved so much.

May the flowers bloom in heaven for her always. With all my symphathy. Marian
