“ I want to send love and prayers to the family. Wanda I loved your mom , I have so many memories of her. I remember when I taught Missionettes at church and Sis Myrtle would bring Tasha every Wednesday. She would go on the bus trips with us , I can see her and Sis Mabel setting in the front seat , Karen Johnson and myself drove the bus and it was the best trip because of Sis Myrtle and Sis Mabel they were a joy when you got them together!❤️ You will be in my thoughts and prayers the days ahead, there is Nothing like a mother . Love you all ❤️🙏

“ It saddens my heart to hear Mrs. Myrtle has left us ! She was always so nice to me . I remember our last conversation we were laughing and carrying on like we always did . Her family has lost the ultimate jewel and my fervent prayer is that we will all see that beautiful smile again in heaven one day . May the good Lord comfort and bless her family in their journey to come . Love all y'all !

“My Granny was more than just a grandmother; she was a guiding light, a source of unconditional love, and the keeper of countless cherished memories.”

Granny had a way of turning the simplest moments into something magical. As a child, I always looked forward to visiting her house, where treasures awaited in the form of her Avon samples. With childlike excitement, I would sift through the collection of miniature lipsticks, tiny bottles of perfume, and vibrant eyeshadows. Granny would sit beside me, her eyes twinkling with amusement, as I played makeup artist, transforming my face into a kaleidoscope of colors.

Our bedtime routine was something I'll always hold close to my heart. Before tucking in for the night, we would stand side by side in the bathroom, toothbrushes in hand, brushing our teeth together. It was a small, ordinary ritual, but the shared laughter and closeness made it feel extraordinary.

Granny was a storyteller. She had a way of weaving tales that brought laughter and wonder, from funny anecdotes about her youth to adventures in the mountains. Speaking of mountains, some of my most treasured memories are of the visits to her cabin. Nestled in nature's embrace, it was a place of peace and connection. Granny would make everything feel special, from collecting wildflowers to sitting on the porch listening to the rustling trees.

Her cabin wasn't just a getaway; it was a sanctuary where the love of family and the beauty of nature blended seamlessly. Granny had a way of making every visitor feel like they belonged there, in the heart of her world.

Granny's laughter was contagious, her wisdom boundless, and her love unconditional. She taught me the importance of cherishing small joys, of finding beauty in simplicity, and of always having a kind heart.

Though she may no longer walk among us, Granny's spirit will forever live on in the lessons she taught us, the memories we made together, and the love she so generously gave. She was, and will always be, my anchor, my inspiration, and my cherished Granny.

Rest in peace, Granny. Your love will forever guide us, and your memory will forever bring warmth to our hearts.
