“ Never Spoken

*The days turn to night
And nights back to days
Over and over again..
The world around seems different in many ways..
This feelings of sorrow I will never
Seem to shed..
Wanting things I can never have..
To say last words in a different way..
To maybe say something meaningful before eternal silence..
What might I have said if only I knew..
If only I knew that the voice would be gone by the rolling of the morn..
I might have spoken these words,
I am sorry ..
I am sorry for the grief I have caused through our lives..
I forgive ..
I forgive you for the much pain you have forced upon me..
I love ..
I do love you for the good person I have seen in you..
And I miss..
I miss you now and I will miss you always.*

“ Mommy,

I know you are at peace now, looking down on me with a sigh of relief on your face. I smile back at you and want you to know, it's ok. I know you are now in Heaven with Mom-Maw Brown and Aunt Betty, I take comfort in knowing that "No One" can ever hurt you again! You maybe gone but never forgotten and always with me wherever I may go in my heart. I love you Mommy!

“ Pammy,

You were more like a sister to me than an aunt. Always the peace maker in the family. When you loved, you love hard. A very giving person. A beautiful woman!

I know that you are at peace and I am thankful for that. You were/are loved and will be missed deeply.

*Love Always,

“ *Ada and family,

I am so sorry to read of Pam's passing. We were neighbors on Dogwood Road for about 5 years in the late 90's and early 2000's.

Pam always loved her family first.

My thoughts and prayers are with you at this time.*

“ *Pammy, my friend, I wish we'd had more time to spend.

A sunbeam to warm you,
A moonbeam to charm you,
A sheltering angel, so nothing can harm you.

“ Aunt Pammy,

An aunt grows more treasured as time goes by.

An aunt is someone special to remember with warmth, think of with pride, and cherish with love.

I love you!
