“ I will never forget Aunt Pauline - she was one of the kindest, gentlest souls ever placed on this earth, and if the meek truly inherit the earth, she will be overseeing a very large spread. When I was a young child, my parents often left me with my grandmother during their summer fishing trips. Since Aunt Pauline lived only a mile or so away from my grandmother, she would usually pick me up and spend a day with me driving to a park in Hagerstown MD to feed the geese and swans, and we always stopped to pick up some delicious submarine sandwiches along the way for our lunch. Each time we visited with her, she always brought out some intricate wooden puzzles to keep me occupied while the adults talked. She always said since she had no children of her own, she considered herself my "second mom" during my visits. She made everyone around her feel special, and will be missed.

“ I spent many wonderful visits with my Aunt Pauline when she lived in Falling Waters, WV, I still have vivid memories of the puzzles she used to give me to solve, as well as the old coins she would save for me. I also remember a day trip we took into Hagerstown, MD, and the sodas we had and the all-day sucker she bought for me. That was probably over 40 years ago. I did not get to visit her after she moved, but I still think of her often and will miss her...

We were sorry to read about the death of Pauline. She was my prayer partner on the church prayer chain until she moved away. We had many wonderful conversations. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ I remember Pauline's soft brown eyes and ready smile in a small angular body. I wish I'd known her when I was younger ... Lost track of my aunts and uncles as a young child when my father John Brown died and Betty Brown moved us back to Texas. However, every Christmas there was always a gift from my Aunt Pauline to my sister and me. Such sweet love.

Words cannot express my gratitude to cousin Jeannie Barnes Messick for her care and devotion to Pauline these many years. Thank you for taking care of John and Ruth's last offspring. Love,
