

Steven Howery

January 27, 2000 - October 5, 2003

Steven Blake Howery, beloved son of Leslie Howery of Tazewell, Va and Grag Howery of Monroe, NC was born on January 27, 2000. God must have needed a special angel in his Kingdom when he called Blake home on October 5, 2003 after a heart transplant. Blake is preceded in death by his maternal grandfather William Croy, Jr., Great Grandfather, Charles L. early, paternal Grandfather, Mose 'Spud' Howery, and Uncle Keith Howery. In addition to his parents, Blake leaves behind a loving sister, Lakin Croy of the home. Maternal Grandparents, DAllas and Cathy White of North Tazewell, VA Special Great Grandparents, Dave and Ruth Carman of Princeton, WV Paternal Grnadmother, MAry Howery of Tazewell, VA Numerous Aunts, Uncles, cousins and friends. Blake touched many lives in his short time here. He loved his church family at The First Church of God in North Tazewell, Virginia and they loved him. He will be missed by every who knew and loved him. Funeral Services will be conducted Wednesdaym October 8, 2003 at 2;00 pm at Hurst-Scott Funeral Chapel, Tazewell, VA, with Rev. Robert Buckles and Barry Absher officiating. Interment will follow at Grandview Memory Gaardens, Bluefield, VA. Pallbearers will be, Larry McKinney, Tim Ealy, Billy Stuart Howery, Jr., and Perry Allen Kelly. Friends may call at teh Funeral Home Tuesday evening from 6:00 to 9:00 pm.

Tribute Wall

“ Steven Howery

January 14, 2023 at 04:24 PM

“ Steven Howery

January 14, 2023 at 02:26 PM

“ Our thoughts and prayers are with you and your family during this time of loss.

Deepest sympathies,

*Co-workers of Carrie McKinney
Emergency Room
Princeton Community Hospital*

Sandy Rowlett - October 05, 2003 at 12:00 AM

“ Even though I only met Blake once, I feel like I knew him forever, he was the same age as my son Ethan. God works in mysterious ways, we all know that...it hurts nonetheless to hear about, much less having to go through, the passing of a child. God received one special angel when he got Blake....I remember his little smile and how he was scared of clowns. I thank God everyday that my son is healthy and anyone else who has children should do the same. Our thoughts and prayers are with all the family. May God bless you all and help you through your difficult time.

Aprell, Michael, & Ethan Puckett - October 05, 2003 at 12:00 AM

“ i seen the obituary of your son in the paper and i just wanted to send my condolences and let you know that you are in my thoughts and prayers , i do not know you but i just felt that i needed to let you know that someone other than family and friends are thinking of you i know that GOD takes angels into his kingdom when he is ready and he must have found a special place for steven ,

,

GOD bless mommy and daddy , and grandparents as they struggle through their great loss ,

October 05, 2003 at 12:00 AM

“ Just to let you know that I am very sorry to hear that Blake is no longer here with us. Your entire family is in my thoughts and prayers and will continue to be during your time of grief. Blake touched each of lives in a very special way during his short time here with us and he will be with us for eternity. In loving memeory, Julie Bradshaw

Julie Bradshaw - October 05, 2003 at 12:00 AM